However, the following expenses do not qualify for the deduction base:

- Administrative staff including office rental, personnel costs, purchase or rental of office stationery, work and legal consulting and audits.
- Transportation costs are also excluded unless these are met in Spain.
- Expenses deriving from the tax amortization of assets directly related to the executive production of the series, in proportion to their relation to the production, will not be part of the deduction base if these expenses are not incurred in Spain but are investments made overseas which are later on connected to the series; the amortization of assets related to the production or financial expenses are not included either.
